

Marvellous moments

James class

James class continued their learning about being unique by celebrating difference on odd sock day. It was a bit smelly!

James class extended their learning about the environment by looking at how plastics are effecting our world. They even looked how the school is using plastics and recycling..

Above, James class invited Grandparents into the classroom to celebrate traditional games. They played dominoes, snakes and ladders which they had made, snap, uno and may other games that sometimes get lost amongst the world of technology! It was fantastic!
